December 2017

Dear Pastor and friends,

Christmas is the story of God's redemptive plan. I love seeing that story told and retold in lives.

Martin

This year Martin especially sensed God's hand in his life. Having fled Rumania in the 1980's, risking being shot by a communist border guard, he prayed. During his baptismal testimony, Martin states: "Looking back, God was always closer than I realized at the time."

He was baptized on his 50th birthday. His mother who had prayed for him for many decades was in attendance to witness this step of obedience.

Hamid

On Dec. 23rd we celebrated a Persian new year and Christmas. At the conclusion of the evening, Hamid requested the opportunity to speak and explain the message of Christmas. What a clear and pointed message it was! He explained that God moved Joseph and Maria to Bethlehem by circumstances to unfold the story of redemption. He went on to get very pointed: You came to Germany looking for a new start in your life (political or religious asylum) - God brought you here for His redemptive purposes, don't miss that! I was so thrilled to hear his clarity.

Pakistan

In December I also had the privilege to preach again via Skype. At the conclusion of the message, many people responded to the call to place their trust in Jesus' work on the cross and obey His word.

Yours, in His service,

Keith and Debbie Gandy
